THE HUNTRESS.

EDUCATION—The main pillar which sustains the Temple of Liberty.—JEFFERSON.

VOL. XI.—New series. WASHINGTON CITY D. C MAY 1 1847 NO XVI.—Whole Number DCCCCXXV.

THE HUNTRESS,

WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

At $2 dollars and 50 cents per annum.

by

MRS. ANNE ROYALL.

At the corner of North B. and third Sts.

Capitol Hill.

☞ Advertisements not exceeding ten lines will be inserted three times for $1, and 25 cents for every additional insertion. Longer advertisements charged in proportion.

SELECTED TALE.

AN INCIDENT OF NAPOLEON'S REIGN.

"I saw a lover wandering by,
With one cold cheek and nerveless air.
He pressed her heart, I heard him sigh,
Oh! what wild tho'ts were gathering there."

It was past midnight when an individual close muffled in a dark military cloak, was passing rapidly through the most frequented streets of Paris. 'Twas a black night, not a star was visible in the unclouded heavens—a circumstance which was suited to the purpose of the pedestrain, whose concealed person and hasty movement plainly indicated his wish to gain his destination unobserved. Suddenly, however, his progress was arrested by the hand of a page who emerged from the obscurity of a portal and held a pistol to the pedestrian's head, demanding 'money.'

'Psha!' cried the pedestrian, endeavoring to shake off his new acquaintance—'Away and don't detain me!'

'I must have gold!' cried the frenzied youth. 'My miseries have maddened me! Refuse me, and this pistol sends a bullet through your head.'

The other perceiving his danger, suddenly disencumbered his right arm of his cloak and with the velocity of lightening laid his assailant prostrate. He then passed on, but suddenly retracing his steps towards the prostrate robber he raised him from the ground and dragged him some paces towards a lamp which cast a dim religious light over a bright part of the scene, he exclaimed—"Ah! ah, Louis Bonœbr!"

'Am I discovered,' exclaimed the youth, and falling at the feet of the other, who again drew his cloak over the lower part of his face, he ejaculated, 'Do not betray me.'

'Sir,' replied the other, 'my duty to the emperor will compel me to disclose this atrocity.'

'You will ruin me, by so doing forever. Hear me sir, hear my melancholy tale and then say if I am not worthy of your pity. Since I have the honor to be in the emperor's service, the whole of my salary has been dedicated to the support of my poor and aged mother. For three years I have been the sole prop of her weary life, she has no other hope but me and heaven. I have brought joy and comfort again into her humble dwelling; she was reduced to penury and wretchedness, my father had died in insolvent circumstances, my dear mother was too aged to work for her subsistence. I endeavored, but in vain, to obtain work. Day after day I trod the streets of Paris, and with all the earnestness of ruin, besought—implored employment, but there was no cordial drop in my cup of misery, and at length I sat down in the garden of the Tuilleries, hopeless and despairing. I contemplated suicide, the thought of leaving my dear parent desolate, chained me to life, but even that thought was becoming overwhelmed by my despair, when our good emperor passed me—he enquired into the truth of my story, and then in the benevolence of his good heart, took me into his suite. He saved me from despair, and brought smiling joy again into the widows humble home.'

'And you have repaid his kindness,' observed the stranger, 'by becoming a midnight robber.'

'No, no,' hurriedly exclaimed the youth I am no common robber. Heaven is my witness that till this night—but hear my story out. Among the tradesmen who supply the palace, there is one having a daughter, whose charms made an impression upon my heart, which reason cannot dispel. Long did I strive to master love, but in vain, I struggled against the rising passion of my heart, but the more I strove to be master of the bewildering passion, the fiercer did it burn. We met—I told my love—I found it was returned—and disdaining concealment, I openly went to her father, but he in all the pride and insolence of wealth, spurned my humble suit, and told me till the emperor had made me worth having, his daughter should not think of me. Seeing that his child's inclinations turned towards me, he introduced a wealthy suitor, and insisted upon her wedding him. I cannot vie with my rival; he lavished gold and gems upon the lovely Adeline. I have only a humble heart to offer. But that she deemed preferable to all the wealth of the gross man of her father's choice—and this night I have seen her at his side—her hand in his—her ear turned to his whispering lips—and the love tributes of gems and gold dazzling before her. I was maddened at the sight. I had clung to the hope that Adeline was constant—that hope was my solace by day, and gave the inspiration to my dreams at night. I fancied the emperor might promote me, when I would have demanded the hand of Adeline in marriage, in the confidence of being able to support her without prejudice to the comforts and enjoyments of my aged mother. This hope is destroyed:—my dreams are all vanished—and I only saw the despairing certainty of Adeline's affections turning to my rival. Oh, sir, if you have ever known the agony of a situation like mine—your heart may find some excuse for me, when I tell you in my desperation I purchased a pistol, and determined laying contributions upon the public, that I might throw gold and jewels into Adeline's lap, and rival the favored one, even his splendor. I saw no other way of recovering Adelines lost affection! I could not desert my poor mother, the result is as you see. Will you betray me?'

The pedestrian was silent. The youth with passionate emotion caught his arm, and exclaimed convulsively. 'Will you betray me?' and he again sunk at his feet.

'I will think upon it, said the pedestrian coldly. Give me that pistol.'

'No, cold hearted man,' suddenly starting upon his feet. 'No—nor shall it be yours, till life is out of this wretched body: and he put the muzzle to his forehead.

'For Heavens sake hold!' cried the stranger.

The tiger was pulled. The priming flashed in the pan. The pedestrian then seized upon the weapon and after a slight struggle, wrested it from the youth's grasp.

'Mon Dieu,' cries the pedestrian—'your blood boils.'

'Go,' rejoined the youth, 'disclose all you know. I am ready to go out on the scaffold. I am tired of life. Death will be welcome.'

'Then come with me.' Thus saying, the stranger took him fast by the arm and hurried him through the dark and narrow thoroughfare.

They proceeded along various obscure streets until they suddenly stopped before a door way in a high and extended wall, and the stranger touching a secret spring, the door flew open, and they entered, the stranger closing the door after them. In a few moments they were in a neat and comfortable apartment, wherein were two servants, who arose on the parties entering and the stranger, taking one of them aside, addressed a few words to him, and abruptly left the room.

It was soon evident to him that the servants had been commanded to observe striot silence—he was not in the mood of conversation, and this was, therefore, to him a matter of more pleasure than grief: his spirits were broken, and he looked upon death as the only refuge he could fly to for relief.

Soon after the servant intimated to the youth that he was to sleep there, and that his bed was ready. He followed them, and as he passed out of the room, he perceived that two gens d'arme had been stationed outside of the door. They followed him up stairs, and when he was ushered into a small narrow bed chamber, and the door was fastened upon him, he heard the heavy tread of the gens d'arme pacing to and fro on the outside. Here, in his loneliness, the thought of self destruction again occurred to him. 'Oh that I could die at once, he inwardly exclaimed. "'Tis horrible to be brought out upon the scaffold of public execution before a gazing million. Mother mother!' he said, 'to the protection of heaven I must leave you. This world is done with me? Oh! Adeline; this—this is thy work.'

He searched the apartment with insane curiosity, to discover some instrument of death, but the room was bare of furniture, save the bed and its clothes. With the latter he busied himself, and tearing some of the sheets into strings, he was fastening them rapidly together when a man suddenly entered the room, and sat down on the bed side. Louis as suddenly leaped into bed, and the man remaining in the position he had taken up, the youth insensibly fell into a deep sleep, where he remained through the night.

It was midnight when he awoke. The man was still in the chamber. Louis was calm and refreshed; and when the man asked him if he would rise and go with him to the gentlemen with whom he had become acquainted on the previous night, Louis cheerfully assented. Shortly after, Louis stood again in the presence of the cloaked man whose life he had threatened. It was a dark antique chamber, and the gentleman had taken up his place in a recess in the depth of which his person was dimly visible. Louis entered, pale and trembling, and with downcast tearful eyes approached the man whom he had in the moment of his frenzy assailed. A chair was pointed out to him, into which he fell and buried his face in his hands.

"Young man,' said the stranger,' you show a becoming sorrow: but what of it?—Suppose you had sent a bullet through my hart last night, would your penitence awaken me to life again? Yours is the old story. Every villain is penitent when the gallows stares him in the face."

"O, sir, spare me—spare me I implore you," cried the youth.

'Oby should I? You should have thought of the consequences of the crime you meditated. But you were headstrong—a fool—and must suffer the consequences."

'Sir, I an ready to meet my punishment Do not aggravate it by proof.'

'I will—it is a satisfact on thatis due to me. I would show you the extent of your folly and your crime. I have made inquiries resdecting your story but mon Dieu! you were a fool. You adventured with me, I would be revenged in telling you, imprisoned as you ar now, and in a fair way to the scaffold. that your conclusion respecting yor mistress was a false one."

"False!', echoed the youth.

"Ay, hot brained boy: false! Your rival, pleased with your devotion, and your attention to your poor mother, had even plead for you with Adeline's father. He succeeded—the old man had even given his consent to your marriage with his daughter, to your rival—the man who you saw whispering in ear of Adeline—had bestowed upon you a marriage portion of 5000 francs. What think you now, rash boy?"

"Heaven!" exclaimed the distracted youth," tis impossible."

"Not so; you shall hear the story from to you fur months, and resisted a parent's the girl's own lips—for justice allows one more meeting. Fine love yours, truly, to doubt a loving girl who has been constant frown, and a rival's gold, merely because you saw something which you have tortured into a crime."

'Oh, forbear, for heaven's sake forbear' cried the youth. 'If you would not see me fall dead at your feet, do forbear.'

'You would have laid me dead at yours last night,' rejoined the stranger. 'How can you ask for mercy?'

'I knew not what I did—love, despair, a friendless, aged parent, all presented themselves to me. I was destracted. I was mad. You know not—you cannot judge of my feelings—then pray spare them now,'

'Ah, there's your mother, too: when the guillotine had done its office, she would be left to starve and die—'

'Oh, no, the Emperor Napoleon is the father of his people, and he will not let the desolate widow perish.'

'Hum,' responded the stranger, 'I believe you can make yourself happy on that score, the emperor will protect her—Are you prepared to take your trial?'

'I am.'

'Are you prepared to meet the girl you love? To hear from her own lips the story of her innocence, and the generosity

WASHINGTON CITY D. C.

SATURDAY MAY 1, :::: 1847.

OLD FRIENDS—NEW CLERKS.

(Continued from our last.)

Hon Arthur P. Bagby U. S. S from Alabama.—Not having seen Gov. B. who (is still in the city with hisfamily) for the last two or three sessions; we payed our respects to him last week on our way to the Treasury building, as we longed to see his amiable wife and daughters, whom we had not seen in some time. The ladies however, were engaged: but Gov B. and son met us in the parlor, Mrs B. he said was indisposed.

The Governor looks as well as we ever saw him, if not better! His fine blue eye still keen and ardent as in youth,—Gov. B. is a gentleman of commanding appearance, popular in the Senate as a gentleman, a scholar and debator, standing on even ground with any of them,so it appears from his speeches—as a politician,he takes a middle course, and is mild and dispassionate in all!

Master Bagby has grown quite tall since we saw him—he is a modest sensible youth, of surprising acquirments. Should he live to manhood and still continue to pursue his studies, he will with the same attention, make one of the first men in this country!

Mr Cox.

And who should we meet in the street but Mr Cox, Chief Clerk in Col Brent's office of the District court.

Of all the human family—excepting Col Brent himself—Mr C. has the greatest claim upon our gratitude—in distress a comforter, in difficulties an adviser, and in want a present help.

Nothing "makes its way to the soul, more directly," than the joy of meeting a friend so disinterested!

Mr Zachariah Chaney.

Another surprise! We have not seen this gentleman in a long time—a delicate child next door, then a pale slender youth, setting up type in our office—guess our astonishment to find him stout, graceful and accomplished, and while his manners are the most easy, and fascinating of his country and sex—he has the heart of a Prince. We felt a secret pride as we took him by the hand,and gazed with wonder on his open manly face.

Mr C, is a bar-keeper in the American hotel, (late European,) near the Treasury Department!

Mrs Adams.

This is a lady who has opened a Boarding house not long since, opposite Browns Hotel, on Pa. avenue, formerly occupied by Mrs Ball. Mrs Adams is a genteel lady looking woman, rather young ing, and much admired by our friends, who boarded with her during the last session. But she has two fine looking clerks boarding with her, Messrs Allen and Montgomery, that we should like to speak to "under the rose."

☞The American.—The editors of this paper will please excuse us,their paper was but this moment discovered.

NEW PAPERS.

We have received several new papers within the last few weeks, which mark of respect we can delay no longer to acknowledge.

The Patriot.

This is a new Whig paper, published in Lebanon, Tennessee, Mr. J. T. Figures is editor and proprietor. It is a bold independent paper. full of truth and point.—The editor loves General Taylor, (who does not) says neither good nor ill of Gen. Scott. He is a man of intelligence and talent, and we wish him success. Price of the Patriot per annum is $1,25 in advance. It is published weekly.

☞Apropos. We received the kind and very polite letter from our esteemed friend W. P. McLean esq., of Lebanon Tennessee, which caused great joy in the Huntress office. The orphans express the deepest gratitude to him for his kind remembrance of them, that heaven may prosper him, are the fervent prayers of us all. The apology was good and accepted.

Glasgow News.

The News has reached its 4th volume, and bids fair "to go ahead."

'It is a family newspaper, independent of sect or party—is published on every Thursday, at Glasgow, in Howard county, Mo. at $2 00, in advance, $2,50 at the end of six months, or $3,00 at the end of the year, by John H. Blue & Co.'

It is a large miscellany paper of the first class, and information. Like all the Missouri papers it is handsomely printed, and edited with great ability.

The Weekly Tribune.

This is another Missouri paper, published weekly at Liberty, Clay county Mo., by Robert H. Miller esq. We received the 1st and 2nd number of the Tribune, a good sized paper no way inferior to those of the newspaper corps of his State; but before we had an opportunity to read them, they were "strayed or stolen,' so that we can neither publish the terms, nor give any account of the editorial course, with the exception, that it has an intelligence, chasteness and system, common to Missouri editors altogether surprising.

Georgia Pioneer.

This paper came a few times, but not received for a week or two. It is rather a large paper, published weekly by Hood and Brothers, at $2, per annum, D. M. & A. Hood editors.

It has reached its 12th volume, which speaks volumes in its favor. It has some very interesting tales, spicy paragraphs, and seems to be a political paper. But really our gallant friends must excuse us for not being able to record the terms, the paper being blowed off by the wind before we had finished it. It is printed at Caesville Georgia.

And last though not least, the—

National Whig.

Published daily in this city by our esteemed friend Mr. Fenton, terms—

"Published daily, N. E. corner of second street and Pennsylvania avenue, opposite the depot, by Charles W. Fenton.

Terms of the Daily National Whig—To subscribers, six and a quarter cents per week, payable to the Carrier, to whom alone they are responsible. When sent by mail the terms are $4 for twelve months, $2 for six months, $1 for three months.

The National Whig. two dollars per annum, invariably in advance."

It is quite a large paper for a beginning, and doubtless limited funds. The editor, Mr. Fenton, long known to us, is a man of talents and education. bold, industrious and independent, and honest as the day is long. He has a large interesting family. and we are pleased to see that he is ably supported. Mr. Fenton goes for General Taylor for the next President.

CHURCH & STATE IN NEW ORLEANS.

The following on Sunday Theatres is from a correspondent of the Philadelphia Saturday Courier, and shows our prophecy is coming to pass, viz. that these sly insidious foes to liberty—liberty of conscience, the dearest of all human rights took up their residence in this city, from no friendly motive toward the citizens, and have already unbeared the cloven foot.

"Sunday Theatricals.—It is stated as a fact worthy of notice, that in fulfilling recent engagements at the Theatres in New Orleans, Messrs. Anderson and Murdoch, the leaders of the young Drama in both hemispheres, purposely avoided performing on the evening of Sunday, although in New Orleans, and other Southern cities, theatrical representations are never omitted on that day.

New Orleans, March 27, 1847.

To the editor of the (Phila) Sat. Courier:

'Dear sir—In your paper of the 13th I find the above paragraph. which is correct so far as relates to our countryman, Mr. Murdoch, but I am pained to say that on the two last Sabbath evenings, Mr Anderson can lay no claim to any merit on this score, as he has appeared on both these evenings on the boards of the St Charles Theatre.

It is quite time that Sunday performances were put a stop to, and I am more than pleased to see one editor in the country attach as much merit to those who withhold their names from the play bills on that night as I do myself.

Mr Murdoch has now paid three visits to our city, and on no occasion has he ever profaned the Sabbath in this manner or any other, and I am pleased to add that he is justly appreciated by the denizens of the South for the moral tone and character which he has given to the Drama by a course of conduct which cannot but command the respect and admiration of even those who are opposed to theatrical representations on any occasion! As he is a native of your city, I do not doubt that you will do me the favor to give this explanation a place in your columns.'

Respectfully your ob'dt servant, J. G."

Mark the the sly creeping advances of the hypocrite—like the serpent of old:—they try all and every scheme to get hold of the law making power. The Sabbath is the pivat upon which their ingenuity is now and always has been tasked to get a finger, and ultimately a hand in making if it were but one law touching religion. and no portion of christian worship is better adapted to accomplish their end than a law regarding the Sabbath, because it embraces every sect.

Thus it was attempted on the Sunday mail subject, to say nothing of their attempts, (in a temperance convention in Connecticut) to make the producing of grain from which ardent spirits were intended to be made "PIRACY," and which every one knows is punished with DEATH! The law proposed embraced the "Farmer." who raised the grain, the "distiller, the wholesale,' and retailer, (and we think the consumer) of the liquor.*

This was making a clean sweep by the descendants of the "Pilgrim fathers."—whose landing celebrations have encreased surprisingly since the blue laws have been established in Richmond Va (and we understand in Rockbridge and Staunton.)—But the ignorance of the people of Virginia which they brought about, is the cause of this—yet they will never get the blue laws established in New Orleans,—Black laws they may, and we would not at all be surprised if they succeed, with the legislature in the Sabbath law, or any law, touching RELIGION, to hear of the New Orleanians being roused from their sleep by the flames of the incendiary, only to meet the knife of the assassin! "It is qu te time that Sunday performances were put a stop to!' How authoritive he speaks, "put a stop to,"—what a "scollard" he is!

This sentence alone, but especially the whole paragraph demonstrates, the necessity of education. This man's bad grammar, his bad english, and his base attempts to flatter the editor proves his ignorance from which springs his bigotry, and therefore he became a fit agent for the Church & State party, to break the constitution. For even a single judicial act infringing the freedom of religion secured to every citizen of the United States destroys the whole, and this party will have gained their end! The sisters of charity and charity hospitable will go next!

What business is it to him what the people do in New Orleans?—he is not answerable for them: If he does not like them let him stay at home—who sent for him? If his object be to put a stop to Sunday performances on the stage, as a sin, why does he not 'put a stop to?'—robbery, theft, murders, riots, seduction, rapes blasphemy, and other crimes too shocking to name in his own city—Philadelphia we presume.

(To be continued.)

* An old Pennsylvania Elder who was on the Convention, finding their drift got up and made a bold eloquent speech against it, told them he knew many honest Presbyterian Elders, his neighbours who raised the grain, distilled it into whiskey, and sold it. This memorable temperance convention, it will be be recollected was held in Middletown Connecticut.

GENERAL TAYLOR'S FAMILY

The father of Gen Taylor was Col Richard Taylor of Virginia an officer who seved with great credit to himself through the Revolutionary war. After the war, Col. Taylor removed to Kentucky, where he distinguished himself in the Indian wars, and subsequently held many civil officer of trust and honor.—He was one of the framers of the Constitution of Kentucky, and was a member of the electoral colleges which voted for Jefferson, Madison and Clay. Col Taylor married Sarah Strother, by whom he had five sons—Hancock, Zachary, George, William and Joseph, and three daughters—Elizabeth, Sarah and Emily, Hancock, after serving in the war against the Indians in Ohio and Indiana, died a farmer near Louisville, Ky. Zachary is "Old Rough and Ready." George died a George died a farmer, on the old family place, near Louisville. William died a Surgeon in the United States Army. Joseph, the only brother of the General, now living, is a Lieutenant Colonel, in the army, who distinguished himself at the battle of Okee-chobee, and has now the control of the Commissary Department in Mexico. Of the daughters—Elizabeth and Emily died, leaving families. Sarah the only sister of Gen. Taylor, now living resides)as do most of his immediate family) near Louisville. Gen James Taylor, of New port, Ky. is not a brother of Gen. Taylor but a cousin of the General's father.—Gen. Taylor married a daughter of Major Smith, of the army, a citizen of Maryland. By her had four children—three daughter Ann, married Dr. Robert C. Wood, a Surgeon in the army. now in Mexico. The second, Sarah Knox, married Col. Jefferson Davis, who has so distinguished himself at Monterey and Bucan Vista."

Mrs. Davis died several years since.—

The son graduated at Yale College about a year since. General Taylor is from one of the oldest Virginia families, and is related to and connected with many of the distinguished families of that State—the Madisons—Lees—Taylors—Barbours—Pendletons—Conways—Taliaferros—numbering amongst their ornaments, James Madison, Richard Henry Lee, John Taylor of Caroline, Judge Pendleton, James and Philip Barbour, General Hunt of Texas, Gen. Gaines &c."

SPRING CURE.

Doctor Quenaudon's extract of green herbs for purifying the blood and the cure of all diseases arising from its impurity, also of all other chronic diseases.

This fresh extract of herbs is produced from the most efficient botanic agents for purifying the blood and reinvigorating health, by taking away all impurities, acidity and restoring to the blood its vital energy, and to the whole body renewed strenght, youthfulness and beauty. For it being scientifically true, that "the blood is the element of life," to prearrve the latter it is necessary to preserve the state of the blood healthy and uncorrupted. The subscriber during 20 years' practice in Europe and America has perfectly and rapidly cured with this extract of fresh spring herbs all diseases arising from a vitiated state of the blood, even in these cases, where all others means had proved ineffectual.

In the following diseases has botanic treament by means of these herbs has been particularly efficacious, viz:—Consumption, liver complaint bilious fever, bleeding at the lungs, rheumatism and gout, scrofula, ringworm, dropsy, swelling, and and derangemen of the pulmonary and digestive organs.

Price one bottle one dollar.

D. D. V QUENAUD N,

Washington City, D. C.—April 1847.

THE BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS.

This is the euphonis and very poetical name of a new and valuable cosmetic, its inventor. Dr. A. De Fontaine, of Paris, has been at great expense and labor in its composition, and has succeeded to the utmost of his wishes, will prove conducive, in the highest degree, to the health of comfort, and enjoyment of all who use it Composed of, plants and flowers of the most healthy, innocent, and powa ful properties, collected from different parts of the world, being highly perfumed by its own ingredients, and peculiarly pleasant in its operation, cannot fail to impart satisfaction to all who employ it for the purposes for which it is so happily and wonderfully adapted. It is designed for the toilet, the nursery, and the bath, and as such it is recommended by the faculty of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and it has been decidedly approved by thousands who use it in preference to all other cosmetics. Every one who has attended to the philosophy of health, knows of immense importance it is, to the true enjoyment of life, and a free exercise of the faculties, to keep the skin clean and the pores used, by frequent ablutions."

CARRIAGES.

THE SUBSCRIBER returns his sincere thanks to his friends and the public generally for the patronage heretofore extended to him, and has the pleasure to inform them that he has just finished a splendid assortment of FASHONABLE CARRIAGES of every description, which he will sell on the most reasonable terms for cash or approved paper. His establishment is two doors west of his old stand, and opposite Gadsby's New Hotel. Persons in want of carriages will find it to their advantage to give me a call before purchasing. Old carriages repaired at the shortest notice, or taken in exchange for new ones.

MICHAEL McDERMOTT.

Washington city, APIL. 3.

CONGRESS HALL HOTEL AND RESTAURANT.

The subscriber takes this method of returning his sincere thanks to his numerous friends who have so liberally patronized him heretofore, and informs them that, having fitted up and entirely renovated the above well-known establishment, nearly opposite the National Hotel, his intention is to carry on the business of hotel keeping upon the European principle, as far as circumstances will permit. A regular charge will be made for chambers, and meals extra, according to what may be ordered in the "Eating Saloon." His larder is well supplied with Oysters, Game, &c.

Permanent boarders, by the day, week, or month, will find a regular Table d'Hote at stated hours.

Suites of Parlors always in readiness for private parties.

Dinner parties served up in the most approved style, and on moderate terms.

P. H. KING.

December 5, 1846.

JOS. SIMMS & SONS,

Wholesale and Retail—Baltimore.

Stove and Sheet Iron Ware Manufactory, S. E. Corner of Light & Lombard Sts.

BALTIMORE.

R. W. DESILVER,

No. 18 south fourth street Philadelphia, has constantly on hand, a full supply of all the principal school books now in use, which he offers at reduced prices.

The Pictorial History of the U. States.

With notices of other portions of America by S. G. Goodrich, author of Peter Parley's Tales, for the use of schools. The main purpose of the work is to furnish a full, accurate, and just history of the Western Continent which may attract and render this subject a common school study throughout the land.—While, therefore it is full, in point of matter, it is so arranged as to be easily mastered by the pupil, and with no excessive demands upon the attention of the teacher. It will be remarked that the work is largely illustrated with engravings of scent and incidents, together with portraits and plain maps, designed to convey correct ideas of men and things, and at the same time taking care that the history shall be studied with accurate geographical notions.

Also, the Pictorial History of France, upon the same plan, and by the same author.

Just received and for sale at the book and Stationary store of

R. FARNHAM,

Corner of 11 st. and Penn. Ave.

EYES RIGHT—LEFT FRONT.

Turn your eyes which way yo will, the same agreeable sensation and clear preception of vision is produced by the American Perifocal Glass, manufactured only by H. M. Paine, North Oxford M. S. They are acknowledged to be the greatest aid to the human vision ever invented. These Glasses can be had of the subscriber (who is the only authorized agent in this District) set in Gold, Silver or steel frames, also Parabolic Glasses, for near sighted people, and cateract Glasses for those who are so unfortunate as to require them, at wholesale or retail. Also a few choice of Gold and Silver Watches.

Gold pens and pencils in Gold and Silver Cases, and genteel assortment of Jewelry which will be sold low for cash at his store on Pa. avenue a few doors east of Coleman's Hotel, corner of Pepper alley and next door to Dr. J. F. May's office.

STEPHEN EDDY.

Nov. 22, 1845.

PERSEVERANCE COFFEE HOUSE.

THE subscriber having taken the Pease well known Coffee House, formerly occupied by John Hancock, a few doors south corner of 6th street and Pennsylvania Avenue begs leave to inform the Public that his Bar is furnished with as good Spirituous Liquors Wine porter Ale and Cider as in any other establishment in the city—and he intends keeping the most abundant supply of the best Oysters cooked every way and for private families.

WILLIAM BENTER.

G. BROOKE, & CO.

Would respectfully inform the citizens of Washington, Georgetown and Alexandria, and the public generally, that they have made such arrangements with the publishers and others as to enable them to offer inducements to subscribers and others, that are not to be met with at any other establishment in the District.

From their long and familiar acquaintance with the business in this City, they feel confident that they can give satisfaction to all customers who may be pleased to favor them with a call; and and they assure subscribers and the public, that no pains will be spared to make thn Literary Depot, corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Fifteenth street, equal to any establishment of the kind south of New York.

J. F. CALLAN,

Corner of E. and 7th streets, opposite the Post Office Department,

Dealer, Wholesale and Retail, in Drugs and Chemicals, patent and family Medicines, paints Oils, Window Glass, and perfumery. Garden and Flower Seeds and Roots, Agricultural Implements and Books; Garden tools, Green House plants, Bouquets and Cut Flowers. Fruit and Ornamental Trees and Shrubbery.

TAILORING.

The subscriber has received his Fall & Winter fashions, and is now prepared to execute all orders in his line in a superior style, at the shortest notice, and upon the most accommodating terms. All garments made to order and warranted in every particular. He feels grateful for past favors, and hopes by strict application to business to merit a liberal share of public patronage. Call and examine for yourself, first door North, in Coleman's Hotel, entrance 6th Street.

J. DIXON.

Oct 31, 1846.

TEAS.

"Washington D. C. Ageney of the New York Canton Tea Company, the oldest Tea establishment in America. Principal establishment in New York. R. J. Woodard Agent, Washington, at Geo. Templeman's Book store, Pennsylvania avunue.

Retail prices as follows, subject in all cases to be returned if not approved of:

GREENS.

Good Young Hyson,	$0 50 per lb.
Fine do	0 62½ "
No. 2 fragrant do	0 75 "
No. 3 very fine do	1 00 "
Silver leaf, do	1 25 "
Good Hyson	075 "
Very fine do	1 00 "
Extra fragrant	1 25 "
Good Hyson skin	0 50 "
Good Imperial	0 75 "
Very fine do	1 00 "
Extra fine do	125 "
Good Gunpowder	0 75 "
Fine do	1 00 "
Extra fine do	1 25 "

BLACKS.

No. 1, Souchong	$0 50
No. 2 do.	0 62
Finest do.	0 75
Fragrant Powchong	various prices.
Congo	Various prices.
Fine Oolong	0 50
Very fine do.	0 75
Extra fine do	1 00
Ningyong	Various prices.
Finest English breakfast tea, (Very rich Pekoe flavored,)	0 75
Fine orange pekoe	0 62
Finest pekoe Flowery	1 00
Howqua, or finest Black Tea imported	1 00.

"MONTEREY HOUSE."

The subscriber having re-opened his old stand nearly opposite Coleman's Hotel, would be glad to receive a call from his old friends and the public generally.

The house has been thoroughly repaired from bottom to top, and it is fitted up in a style not surpassed, if equaled in the District.

The subscriber feels grateful for past favors, whilst heretofore engaged in business in this city, and hopes by strict attention to business and a determination to render satisfaction to merit an increase of public patronage. His table will be furnished with all the luxuries of the season, and his bar with the choicest wines and liquors.

JAMES S. HALL

Washington D. C. Oct. 31, 1846.

P. S. Boarders received per day, week, or month.

J. S. H.

STEAMBOAT HOTEL.

The subscriber having taken the large and commodious Hotel on seventh street, one door from the corner of Pennsylvania avenue, facing the Centre Market, recently occupied by John C. Cook, esq.

Of this long established house, for convenience and comfortable apartments, little need be said. The subscriber also long known to the public, is prepared to accommodate boarders and travellers at the shortest notice. His table is plentifully furnished with the best the market affords, prepared by experienced cooks and attentive servants.

His bar is furnished equal to any in the United States.

JOHN WEST.

August 23, 1846.

N. B. The house has undergone considerable repairs, and has been thoroughly clensed from bottom to top.

J. W.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN'S PLAIN AND FANCY SHOE STORE.

Manufactured by James Jack.

The undersigned has opened a cheap and fashionable, Shoe Store, on Penn. Avenue, nearly opposite Brown's Hotl, between six and Seven street, where he aways keep on hand an assortment of Ladies and Gentlemans manufacture and materials, and of the most fashionable style. Among which are:

MEN'S fine seals Morocco, and calf boots, Do grain, Calf and Kip welted, do

Do course thick do

Do Brogans and Monroe,

Do pumps and Calf, shoes,

Boys boots, brogans and dress shoe

Ladies and Misses fine calf seal and Morocco walking.

ANACROSTIC.

'There is a bower of roses by Bendemers Stream.'

On these roses enraptured the poet reclined.
But an Havana Cigar is more fragrant I ween
And inviting than bowers with roses entwined.
Come then, come the bower where Tyson resides.'
Come and puff off the cares of your business drives,
O'er this bower the Genius of smoking presides.

Segars of the finest from Cuba's bright Isle,
None here can equal, they're wondrous rare;
Under luxuries so fragrant, each care you beguile.
For they fly with the smoke and vanish in air.
For "'tis clear and unquestionable,' 'tis a genuine Cigar.

'And wield and high' the poets strain awoke,
Not cries of 'gathering,' but Havanna's smoke;
Dance gaily o'er the head, as light as ether float.

Content with small profits, he solicits a hand
Invites you to call, he's determined to please,
Good Segars, good Tobacco, all of a good brand,
And at his establishment no one need sneeze,
Relying on friendship, disposed to be fair,
Solicits of custom a moderate share.

Call and see N. E. Tyson, sign of the full grown Indian, 5 doors East of 4-1-2 street Pa. Avenue.

August 1, 1846

RAIL-ROAD HOTEL.

The undermentioned having taken the above well known Hotel, recently occupied by P. Moran, East of the Rail Road Depot, between 1st and 2d Streets, is now prepared to accommodate any number of persons that may favor them with a call. Their table will be supplied with all the delicacies of the season, and the bar with the choicest liquors.

Regular boarders received at moderate prices.

The subscribers feels grateful for past favors and hopes by strict attention to business, and a determination to please, to merit an increase of public patronage.

P. McGARVEY & CO.

P. S. The bottling establishment formerly kept by them on F street has been removed to the above named Hotel, where they would be glad to serve their old customers as heretofore.

June 6, 1846.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE,

Friends of Morality and a pure Literature.

THE SATUDAY EVENING POST.

New Prospectus.

The proprietors of that old and firmly established paper, the Saturday Evening Post, are determined to maintain the reputation it has acquired of being, on the whole, the best weekly paper in Amerieo.

As the vigorous defender of morality and a pure literature, it has gained for itself a name which entitles it to take the lead of journals, which are afraid to speak out upon this most important question.

A Literary Journal.

As a literary journal the Post stands second to none. The best contributions of the American and Foreign mind, are procured to instruct and delight its large circle of readers—and no exertions shall be spared to render the Post a delightful companion both for old and young.

News.

Much care is taken to collect for the readers of the Post the latest and most important intelligence upon all subjects of public interest. Domestic, Foreign, Congressional, and other news will ever be furnished as speedily as possible.

Portraits and Pictures.

Portraits of distinguished men, pictures of remarkable places, also, shall not be forgotten. And we shall endeavor always to have such embellishment in our columns to add to their variety and beauty.

The Fireside Friend.

We shall thus finally, maintain for the Post the proud title it has acquired of being peculiarly a Family paper and the Fireside Friend. Always having among its numerous stories, something for each member of the family—for the father, the mother, the brothers, the sisters, down even down to the younger members of the household.

TERMS.

1 copy	" "	$2 00
3 copies	" "	$5 00
8 copies	" "	$10
12 copies	" "	$15
17 copies	" "	$20

SAM'L D. PATTERSON & CO.

No. 98 Chesnut st. Philadelphia.

DOCTOR

D. V. Quenaudon's

Office.

Penn. Avenue, south side.

2d door West of 12th street

We

CARRIAGES.

THE SUBSCRIBER returns his sincere thanks to his friends and the public generally for the patronage heretofore extended to him, and has the pleasure to inform them that he has just finished a splendid assortment of FASHONABLE CARRIAGES of every description, which he will sell on the most reasonable terms for cash or approved paper. His establishment is two doors west of his old stand, and opposite Gadsby's New Hotel. Persons in want of carriages will find it to their advantage to give me a call before purchasing. Old carriages repaired at the shortest notice, or taken in exchange for new ones.

MICHAEL McDERMOTT.

Washington city, APIL. 3.

JOHN H. BUTHMANN,
WINE MERCHANT,
Pennsylvania Avenue,
(South Side,)
Between 4½ and 6th Street,
Washington, D. C.

CONGRESS HALL HOTEL AND RESTAURANT.

The subscriber takes this method of returning his sincere thanks to his numerous friends who have so liberally patronized him heretofore, and informs them that, having fitted up and entirely renovated the above well-known establishment, nearly opposite the National Hotel, his intention is to carry on the business of hotel keeping upon the European principle, as far as circumstances will permit. A regular charge will be made for chambers, and meals extra, according to what may be ordered in the "Eating Saloon." His larder is well supplied with Oysters, Game, &c.

Permanent boarders, by the day, week, or month, will find a regular Table d'Hote at stated hours.

Suites of Parlors always in readiness for private parties.

Dinner parties served up in the most approved style, and on modorate terms.

P. H. KING.

December 5, 1846.

PERSEVERANCE
COFFEE HOUSE.

THE subscriber having taken the PERSEVERANCE COFFEE HOUSE, formerly occupied by John Hancock, a few doors south corner of 8th street and Pennsylvania Avenue begs leave to inform the Public that his Bar is furnished with as good Spirituous Liquors Wine rortet Ale and Cider as in any other establishment in the city—and he intends keeping the most abundant supply of the best Oysters cooked every way and for private families.

WILLIAM BENTER.

G. BROOKE, & CO.

Would respectfully inform the citizens of Washington, Georgetown and Alexandria, and the public generally, that they have made such arrangements with the publishers and others as to enable them to offer inducements to subscribers and others, that are not to be met with at any other establishment in the District.

From their long and familiar acquaintance with the business in this City, they feel confident that they can give satisfaction to all customers who may be pleased to favor them with a call; and and they assure subscribers and the public, that no pains will be spared to make thn Literary Depot, corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Fifteenth street, equal to any establishment of the kind south of New York.

J. F. CALLAN,
Corner of E. and 7th streets, opposite the Post Office Department,
Dealer, Wholesale and Retail, in Drugs and Chemicals, patent and family Medicines, paints Oils, Window Glass, and perfumery. Garden and Flower Seeds and Roots, Agricultural Implements and Books, Garden tools, Green House plants, Bouquets and Cut Flowers. Fruit and Ornamental Trees and Shrubbery.

TAILORING.

The subscriber has received his Fall & Winter fashions, and is now prepared to execute all orders in his line in a superior style, at the shortest notice, and upon the most accommodating terms. All garments made to order and warranted in every particular. He feels grateful for past favors, and hopes by strict application to business to merit a liberal share of public patronage. Call and examine for yourself, first door North, in Coleman's Hotel, entrance 6th Street.

J. DIXON.

Oct 31, 1846.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE,
Friends of Morality and a pure Literature.

THE SATUDAY EVENING POST.

New Prospectus.

The proprietors of that old and firmly established paper, the Saturday Evening Post, are determined to maintain the reputation it has acquired of being, on the whole, the best weekly paper in America.

As the vigorous defender of morality and a pure literature, it has gained for itself a name which entitles it to take the lead of journals, which are afraid to speak out upon this most important question.

A Literary Journal.

As a literary journal the Post stands second to none. The best contributions of the American and Foreign mind, are procured to instruct and delight its large circle of readers—and no exertions shall be spared to render the Post a delightful companion both for old and young.

News.

Much care is taken to collect for the readers of the Post the latest and most important intelligence upon all subjects of public interest. Domestic, Foreign, Congressional, and other news will ever be furnished as speedily as possible.

Portraits and Pictures.

Portraits of distinguished men, pictures of remarkable places, also, shall not be forgotten. And we shall endeavor always to have such embellishment in our columns to add to their variety and beauty.

The Fireside Friend.

We shall thus finally, maintain for the Post the proud title it has acquired of being peculialy a Family paper and the Fireside Friend. Always having among its numerous stories, something for each member of the family—for the father, the mother, the brothers, the sisters, down even down to the younger members of the household.

TERMS.

1 copy	"	"	$2 00
3 copies	"	"	$5 00
8 copies	"	"	$10
12 copies	"	"	$15
17 copies	"	"	$20

SAM'L. D. PATTERSON & CO.
No. 98 Chesnut st. Philadelphia.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL,

Corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Third Street.

The undersigned has refitted, refurnished, and opened this new and beautiful Hotel on the same admired plan as gave such unqualified satisfaction under my superintendance last winter, and at

MUCH REDUCED PRICES.

A regular table will be prepared for boarders, on which will be found every delicacy and luxury of the season, served FROM A WELL STOCK LARDE.

The private rooms in the basement will always be at the disposal, without extra charge, of persons and parties wishing meals or refreshments, which will be served at all hours of the day and evening.—The parlors and chambers will be let either with or without board, making it optional with the occupants to take their meals at the ordinary, or in private at the Restaurant prices.

CLUBS AND MESSES

Of any number of persons can have tables by themselves. The most choice wines and liquors have been selected both for the bar and tables. With an active experience of fifteen years in eight of the best hotels in the Union.

C. J. MacLELLAN.

Washington City, February 6, 1847.

EYES RIGHT—LEFT FRONT.

Turn your eyes which way yo will, the same agreeable sensation and clear preception of vision is produced by the American Perifocal Glass, manufactured only by H. M. Paine, North Oxford M. S. They are acknowledged to be the greatest aid to the human vision ever invented. These Glasses can be had of the subscriber (who is the only authorized agent in this District) set in Gold, Silver or steel frames, also Parabolic Glasses, for near sighted people, and cataract Glasses for those who are so unfortunate as to require them, at wholesale or retail. Also a few choice of Gold and Silver Watches.

Gold pens and pencils in Gold and Silver Cases, and genteel assortment of Jewelry which will be sold low for cash at his store on Pa. avenue a few doors east of Coleman's Hotel, corner of Pepper alley and next door to Dr. J. F. May's office.

STEPHEN EDDY.

Nov. 22, 1845.

VARIETY STORE.

The subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public, that he has opened in the above line of business and will constantly keep on hand all kinds of house furnishing articles, Fancy Goods, Hardware and Cuttlery, Brushes, Brooms, Baskets, Tubs, Buckets, Sieves, Mats, Blinds, Japanned ware Waiters Clocks, Looking Glasses, Combs, Fancy articles, Violins, &c. J. T. DOWNS.

Pennsylvania Avenue, between North and Tenth streets.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN'S PLAIN AND FANCY SHOE STORE.

Manufactured by James Jack:

The undersigned has opened a cheap and fashionable, Shoe Store, on Penn. Avenue, nearly opposite Brown's Hotl, between six and Seven street, where he awaye keep on hand an assortment of Ladies and Gentlemans manufacture and materials, and of the most fashionable style. Among which are.

MEN'S fine seals Morocco, and calf boots, Do grain, Calf and Kip welted, do.
Do coarse thick do
Do Brogans and Monroe,
Do pumps and Calf, shoes,
Boys boots, brogans and dress shoe
Ladiss and Misses fine calf seal and Morocco walking.
Do fine kid and Gaiters,

TEAS.

"Washington D. C. Agency of the New York Canton Tea Company, the oldest Tea establishment in America. Principal establishment in New York. R. J. Woodard Agent, Washington, at Geo. Templeman's Book store, Pennsylvania avunue.

Retail prices as follows, subject in all cases to be returned if not approved of:

GREENS.

Good Young Hyson,	$0 50 per lb.
Fine do	0 62½ "
No. 2 fragrant do	0 75 "
No. 3 very fine do	1 00 "
Silver leaf, do	1 25 "
Good Hyson	075 "
Very fine do	1 00 "
Extra fragrant	1 25 "
Good Hyson skin	0 50 "
Good Imperial	0 75 "
Very fine do	1 00 "
Extra fine do	125 "
Good Gunpowder	0 75 "
Fine do	1 00 "
Extra fine do	1 25 "

BLACKS.

No. 1 Souchong	$0 50
No. 2 do.	0 62
Finest do.	0 75
Fragrant Powchong	various prices.
Congo	various prices.
Fine Oolong	0 50
Very fine do	0 75
Extra fine do	1 00
Ningyong	various prices.
Finest English breakfast tea, (very rich Pekoe flavored,)	0 75
Fine orange pekoe	0 62
Finest pekoe Flowers	1 00
Howqua, or finest Black Tea imported	1 00.

JOS. SIMMS & SONS,
Wholesale and Retail—Baltimore.
Stove and Sheet Iron Ware Manufactory,
S. E. Corner of Light & Lombard Sts.
BALTIMORE.

R. W. DESILVER,

No. 18 south fourth street Philadelphia, has constantly on hand, a full supply of all the principal school books now in use, which he offers at reduced prices.

The Pictorial History of the U. States.

With notices of other portions of America by S. G. Goodrich, author of Peter Parley's Tales, for the use of schools. The main purpose of the work is to furnish a full, accurate, and just history of the Western Continent which may attract and render this subject a common school study throughout the land.—While, therefore it is full, in point of matter, it is so arranged as to be easily mastered by the pupil, and with no excessive demands upon the attention of the teacher. It will be remarked that the work is largely illustrated with engravings of scent and incidents, together with portraits and plain maps, designed to convey correct ideas of men and things, and at the same time taking care that the history shall be studied with accurate geographical notions.

Also, the Pictorial History of France, upon the same plan, and by the same author.

Just received and for sale at the book and Stationary store of

R. FARNHAM,
Corner of 11 st. and Penn. Ave.

DOCTOR

D. V. Quenaudon's
Office.
Penn. Avenue, south side,
2d door West of 12th street.
Washington, D. C.

RAIL-ROAD HOTEL.

The undermentioned having taken the above well known Hotel, recently occupied by P. Moran, East of the Rail Road Depot, between 1st and 2d Streets, is now prepared to accommodate any number of persons that may favor them with a call. Their table will be supplied with all the delicacies of the season, and the bar with the choicest liquors.

Regular boarders received at moderate prices.

The subscribers feels grateful for past favors and hopes by strict attention to business, and a determination to please, to merit an increase of public patronage.

P. McGARVEY & CO.

P. S. The bathing establishment formerly kept by them in F. street has been removed to the above named Hotel, where they would be glad to serve their old customers as heretofore.

June 6, 1846.

R. C. NICHOLS'
AMERICAN HOTEL,
(Late European,)
Pennsylvania Avenue,
Between 14th and 15th Streets,
Washington, D. C.

AN ACROSTIC.

'There is a bower of roses by Bendemers Stream.'
On these roses enraptured the poet reclined.
But an Havana Cigar is more fragrant I weed
And inviting than bowers with roses entwined.
Come then, come the bower where Tyson resides.'
Come and puff off the cares of your business drives,
O'er this bower the Genius of smoking presides.

Segars of the finest from Cuba's bright Isle,
None here can equal, they're wondrous rare;
Under luxuries so fragrant, each care you beguile.
For they fly with the smoke and vanish in air,
For "tis clear and unquestionable,' 'tis a genuine Cigar.

'And wield and high' the poets strain awoke,
Not cries of 'gathering,' but Havanna's smoke,
Dance gaily o'er the head, as light as ether float.

Content with small profits, he solicits a hand
Invites you to call, he's determined to please
Good Segars, good Tobacco, all of a good brand
And at his establishment no one need sneeze
Relying on friendship, disposed to be fair,
Solicits of custom a moderate share.

Call and see N. E. Tyson, sign of the full grown Indian, 5 doors East of 4-1-2 street Pa. Avenue.

August 1, 1846.

STEAMBOAT HOTEL.

The subscriber having taken the large and commodious Hotel on seventh street, one door from the corner of Pennsylvania avenue, facing the Centre Market, recently occupied by John C. Cook, esq.

Of this long established house, for convenience and comfortable apartments, little need be said. The subscriber also long known to the public, is prepared to accommodate boarders and travellers at the shortest notice. His table is plentifully furnished with the best the market affords, prepared by experienced cooks and attentive servants.

His bar is furnished equal to any in the United States.

JOHN WEST.

August 23, 1846.

N. B. The house has undergone considerable repairs, and has been thoroughly cleansed from bottom to top.

J. W.

"MONTEREY HOUSE."

The subscriber having re-opened his old stand nearly opposite Coleman's Hotel, would be glad to receive a call from his old friends and the public generally.

The house has been thoroughly repaired from bottom to top; and it is fitted up in a style not surpassed, if equaled in the District.

The subscriber feels grateful for past favors, whilst heretofore engaged in business in this city, and hopes by strict attention to business and a determination to render satisfaction to merit an increase of public patronage. His table will be furnished with all the luxuries of the season, and his bar with the choicest wines and liquors.

JAMES S. HALL.

Washington D. C. Oct. 31, 1846.

P. S. Boarders received per day, week, or month.

J. S. H.